STRONG FAITH. STRONG FOUNDATION. STRONG FUTURE. RHEMA STRONG.

Rhema Job & Housing Guide

Two of the most common questions after a person knows they want to attend RBTC are:

“Where will I live?”

“Where will I work?”

You may already have these sorted out, but if not, we have good news! You can use this guide to help start your search. There are many apartment complexes and job opportunities in the Tulsa/Broken Arrow area. This is just a sampling.

If you have already been accepted to Rhema, you can access current job and roommate posts through Populi (student database). As an accepted student, you can also add your name to the off-campus roommate listings in Populi by emailing your post to Admissions at rbtc@rhema.org.

Where Will I Live?

STUDENT HOUSING

We have 96 units across the street from Rhema USA at Greg Smith Memorial Student Housing. These one- and two-bedroom apartments are not furnished. They also fill up quickly! Visit rbtc.org/housing for instructions on how to apply for the Rhema Student Housing waiting list.

OTHER HOUSING OPTIONS

One helpful website for students is edurent.com. If you are looking to rent a home versus an apartment, you might look at rentersplace.com, realtor.com, and tulsarealtors.com. And if apartment living is all you need, check out our list below or visit apartments.com.

These websites are just the beginning of resources for housing in the Tulsa/Broken Arrow area. We highly recommend visiting the area before making your official transition to see your options first-hand, the neighborhood, and the property's condition.

Where Will I Work?

Jobs are available in the area. To help in your job search, when companies email us about job openings, we post them on Populi. Posted opportunities are not officially approved by RBTC, but we want to pass along any beneficial information. Use discretion when investigating employment opportunities, just as you would when making career choices.

To get started, here is a snapshot of our current listings. These are subject to change, and the locations may not have job openings immediately. But they are good places to begin your search because they have had a Rhema presence before.
